KEATS HOUSE,
HAMPSTEAD, N.W.3.

Feb. 14. 1850
Craven Hill Cottage

My dear Mrs Jagan

Tomorrow will be quite as con= =venient to Emma & me as this evening; therefore, as we can enjoy Mrs Jagan's society as well as yours, by waiting another day, we are too good economists of pleasure not to prefer waiting.

Charles lectures tonight at the Whittington tomorrow at Blackheath, so he will be unable to have the pleasure of accompanying us.

Tell Helen never to be afraid I shall think "anything injurious of friends I have proved to be such kind ones,

as her excellent parents have shown themselves towards us. With love & her, respectful regards & best Fayart & prayer believe me to be Faithfully yours
